Mother's Day Celebration

Once a year we get to celebrate a woman, a bond and a figure who symbolizes existence and love. Mother's Day celebration is an age old tradition which began in the early 20th century to honour the services and sacrifices made by our mothers. Our mothers are our first friends, teachers, guides, doctors, confidantes and everything else that they can be. They are the ones who put our needs in front of theirs and are with us through thick and thin.

TISA- A home away from home.....

Chairman's message

Often in our intense desire to secure the future of our children, we set unrealistic expectations or impinge on the children's right to pursue their interest beyond books, considering them as superfluous. Conversely, co-curricular activities are equally if not more, conducive to cognitive development. Research shows that children who are actively involved in physical and creative activities do well academically too.

Chairman

Director's Message

The essence of education at The International school Agra will be the holistic or all-round development of the child where students will learn to maintain a balance between academics and co-curricular activities which allow them to emerge as confident world class citizens. At TISA, it will be our endeavor to join hands with the parents to instill humility and respect in the students inculcating the values of social responsibility, to nurture these young minds and to educate them to be positive contributions to society and the world at large.

Director
